Pippy loves all of the attention she can get! Just look at this sweet girl's smile ☺

Pippy is absolutely adorable and extremely social. In fact, this little girl is a bit of an attention hog and will do just about anything to get you to take notice! Although Pippy does get along with some other dogs, she much prefers to be her human's shadow. She should never live with another canine because she does get very protective of her food and toys and will make it quickly known that she will not share. Pippy will benefit from strong leadership activities as she learns the rules of her new household. Since she can get a bit anxious when left alone, crate training along with following certain guidelines to ease her anxiety and neediness is a must. Prior to her adoption, RBARI will provide a lesson with some suggestions on how to make her transition easier.
